*“Partial List of Mexicans Killed in Valley Since July 1st 1915”, Telegraph from American Consul in Matamoros to Secretary of States, February 8, 1916, 812.00/17186, Roll 51, Internal Affairs of Mexico, and Jesus Perez, “Memoirs of Jesse Perez: 1870-1927” TS, Center for Center for American History, University of Texas at Austin, 57-58.

 In the Jesus Perez memoir this person is not listed as a girl, while in the “Partial List of Mexicans Killed” she is listed as a girl. F. Arutro Rosales details the account of both Martina Rivas, he identifies her as a girl, and her father Senovio Rivas killings by Texas Rangers in, ¡Pobre Raza!, 89.

James B. McAllen killed these five Mexicans, while Texas Rangers killed Bazan and Longoria. For a documentary of this incident see Border Bandits, DVD, directed by Kirby Warnock (Dallas, Tx: Trans-Peco Productions, 2003).

* Jesus Perez is cited as killing Bocanegra in the “Partial List of Mexicans Killed” document.
